

Photograph courtesy The Western Horseman
 Colonel Fred Hamilton, Chief of U.S. Remount Programs, holds *Nordlicht (TB), winner of the German Derby. Colonel Hamilton was in Germany in late 1945 to select horses which would be purchased and taken to the United States for use by the Remount Service.

Photograph courtesy U.S. Army
 The great *Witez II, a Polish-bred Arabian stallion, was a prominent stud in the German Remount breeding program during World War II. *Witez II was brought to the United States, where, after the dissolution of the Remount Program, he became a major influence in Arabian horse breeding.

Photograph courtesy Barbara Tinsley Mills
 Barbara Tinsley Mills clears a jump on Golden Victory, by Golden Seal (TB) in 1946. Golden Seal, a Remount stallion, was a popular sire of hunters and jumpers in the Virginia horse country during the late 1930s.

Photograph courtesy Phil Livingston
 Gold King, PHA Number 3427, PHBA Number 10,201, NQHBA Number 1,448, owned by Dave Cullison, Claremore, Oklahoma, was a popular sire in the late 1940s and 1950s. He was sired by London Pride (TB), a Remount stallion, and out of a Yellow Jacket Quarter Horse mare.

Photograph courtesy U.S. Army
 Sergeant Herman Knoch, retired trooper, holds Heidi, the last Cavalry horse on active service, at the Cavalry Memorial dedication, Fort Riley, Kansas, 1959.